

HUNDREDS OF RECRUITS POURING INTO TEXAS

Company Commanders Drilling Soldiers With Feverish Haste Indicates Something Will Be Doing

OFFICERS BELIEVE FRONTIER MOVEMENT PLANNED

Complete Army Division is Mobilized in San Antonio ---Capture of Alleged Filibusters on American Soil May Furnish Excuse for Intervention---German Military Expert Says Japan is About Ready to Strike.

San Antonio, Tex., March 13.—With the arrival today of the Ninth cavalry and the Fourth field artillery in San Antonio, the entire division under Major General Carter is now in camp, eight and one-half days after the mobilization order was flashed out of Washington. Hundreds of recruits continue pouring into Fort Sam Houston every hour and are immediately assigned to regiments where company commanders are drilling the rookies in feverish haste to prepare them with some form of military knowledge for the work expected.

That tomorrow will see some sign of action looking toward throwing the whole division toward the Mexican frontier is firmly believed by the officers here.

The suspension of certain forms of constitutional rights in Mexico, in effect a declaration of martial law, becomes effective Thursday, and there is every reason to believe that the Mexican government intends to attempt to put down the revolt with an iron hand.

Revolutionists here declare advances from their comrades in Mexico say they are ready for any move by throwing all the northern Mexico into a state of insurrection.

The moment Diaz carries out his intention of trying in military courts all persons guilty of the slightest outbreak the insurrectos plan bitter reprisals.

News from the state of Coahuila, hitherto unaffected by the insurgent uprising is given considerable credence. While General Carter refuses to discuss the situation, there is every reason to believe that he is fully acquainted with the conditions and is preparing to entrain the entire division for points along the Mexican border within a few days, possibly before the end of the week.

Mobilization of a complete arm division in San Antonio, junta members here say, is taken by the Mexican insurrectos as a sign of a contemplated collapse of the Diaz administration; instead of discouraging insurrectos, it has given them fresh courage.

Washington, March 13.—That the threatened diplomatic break in the Blatt-Converse controversy between the United States and Mexico may furnish the lever by which pro-Japanese officials in Mexico may be eliminated from governmental affairs was the belief expressed her in official circles today.

The positive character of the actions made by the state department that Edwin M. Blatt of Pittsburgh, and Lawrence P. Converse of California, alleged filibusters, were captured on American soil, as against the equally insistent statement of the Mexican foreign office that they were caught in Mexico, is believed likely to offer a cause for intervention.

If Mexico stands firm in her diplomatic representations that Blatt and Converse were captured within her borders, the United States will have justification in international procedure for a direct move against Mexico.

It was pointed out today that the present diplomatic exchange is the first instance in which the state department has been utilized in the Mexican situation.

The knowledge that pro-Japanese officials in Mexico had countenanced Japanese negotiations for a coaling station at Manzanillo, is believed to have made necessary immediate action by the United States. It gave indications that Diaz was losing his grip and that the United States was menaced by a new and unfriendly administration in Mexico. In this exigency many believe that the state department was called upon to furnish diplomatic support and would enable the United States to force on the pro-Japanese.

El Paso, Tex., March 13.—Despite the action of the American state department in demanding the release of Edward Blatt and Lawrence Converse, American boys imprisoned at Juarez, the Mexican government is not expected to take any action for us.

American Samoa Islands and Guam. By this means Japan would create a permanent and unalterable advantage for herself. The most powerful American fleet conceivable would be helpless in such an immense area of operation as the Pacific ocean without advance bases, so that the capture of these bases by Japan would render that country the undisputed mistress of the Pacific ocean.

"There is no doubt that Japan is now in a position to seize these islands because they are either unfortified or insufficiently fortified and sufficient protection by the American fleet is impossible.

"Sudden seizure of these islands is neither improbable nor impossible. It must be remembered that the time is rapidly approaching when Japan will be compelled to defend her political and commercial position under less favorable circumstances so that this reason operates in favor of the earliest possible seizure of America's Pacific possessions. That American officials realize this is shown by a feverish haste to fortify the Panama canal.

"A very significant sidelight on Japan's attitude toward the use of the Philippines as a naval base was afforded by the fact that the large floating dock, conveyed to Olongapo with great difficulties developed a leak in a most inexplicable manner and sank. This and many circumstances that have been kept quiet show that Japan is almost ready to deprive America of her naval base before the American fleet grows to such an extent that its superiority over the Japanese navy is overwhelming."

The count severely criticizes the United States for failing properly to fortify its Pacific possessions and refers to the fact that Admiral Dewey immediately after the Portsmouth peace conference, said Japan would soon become too powerful for the United States. Japan was hard at work preparing for war, he says, when the American fleet went to the Pacific and this produced "temporary tranquillity," but Japan is now ready to strike. Summing up his conclusions the count says:

"The seizure of the islands belonging to America in the Pacific would be essentially an act of defense on the part of Japan, notwithstanding the aggressive character of realizing the plan. I repeat it is a life question for Japan, and there is no doubt whether that her rulers are fully aware of this truth."

Washington, March 13.—That Japan already has an army of veteran soldiers in Hawaii, and has been engaged during the last year in military activity in the Philippines, was admitted here today in connection with the statement of County Vor Reventlow.

The official attitude of utmost cordiality between this country and Japan prevented any official comment upon the Reventlow statement but several army and navy officers have recently received personal information in letters from the Far East which largely bears out the contentions of the German expert.

It is declared that Japan firmly believes she could take the Philippines with ease. That her spies have been at work in the islands have not been denied since the arrest of two Japanese secret agents at Corregidor last fall. In case of war, it is believed here the first attack would be made in Hawaii, where an army of Japanese is asserted to be put in the field over night. By endeavoring to cut off the American fleet, through the destruction of the railroads,

Captain Oscar Creighton's insurrección force of 50 men was still hovering around Juarez today, evidently awaiting Madero's arrival.

Berlin, March 13.—An American naval base, constructed in the Philippines is an intolerable menace to Japan. Supremacy in the waters of the far east is a life necessity to Japan and her statesmen, realizing this are planning to strike, and soon, declares Count Ernest Reventlow, Germany's most noted strategical expert and writer on military subjects. He will publish in a few days a carefully prepared essay on Japanese-American relations of which he will furnish the United Press today.

The activity in Mexico where an effort is being made by Japan to establish a coaling station at Manzanillo was pointed out as an indication that, being satisfied with his ability to sweep the American flag out of the Orient, the mikado is now putting the finishing touches on his aggressive plans, as asserted by Representative Richmond Pearson Hobson, to declare war before the Panama canal is opened.

Washington, March 13.—After reading carefully the Count Reventlow statement from Berlin Fred L.

Huudekoper, the world renowned military expert, said today:

"That is the safest statement of the real situation that I have read. Everybody in touch with the situation knows its accuracy."

He continued that it would be a good thing for America to have a war with Japan and get badly beaten the first year after which we would wake up and whip Japan for all time.

"The Japanese plans for conquest provide for the seizure of the Philippines, the Hawaiian Islands, the Philippines, and the Suez Canal.

Leading Japanese statesmen are now convinced that Japan as a great power can not continue to exist unless she possesses naval supremacy in the Pacific. She must continue to command the Chinese market.

America is her rival here and the Panama canal has for one of its main objects the conquest of the Chinese markets by creating a shorter way of communication between

American Atlantic ports and the Chiinese coast.

"The Japanese plans for conquest

pines, the Hawaiian Islands, the Philippines, and the Suez Canal.

Berlin, March 13.—If the United States government wishes to prove to the public the inefficiency of its military machinery its purposes have been fulfilled by the mobilization."

This is what a correspondent of a leading paper here writes from Texas. He says lack of complete brigades and poor railway facilities are the most glaring faults revealed by the maneuvers."

St. Petersburg, March 13.—Russia will give China ten days more to make a satisfactory reply, after which the matter will be placed in the hands of the war department. Reports of military arrangements in China have prompted this decision.

MORE THAN FIFTEEN THOUSAND SOLDIERS ARE NOW HOUSED ON THE PLAINS NEAR FORT SAM HOUSTON, TEXAS, READY FOR WAR

BOLTON CASE GOES TO MT. VERNON ON A CHANGE OF VENUE

Judge E. M. Wickham this afternoon granted the motion, filed some time ago by J. R. Fitzgibbon and F. A. Bolton, attorneys for Louis Bolton, for a change of venue and the trial at the earliest date possible. Taking all facts into consideration the court thought Mt. Vernon was already overcrowded. The case will be sent to Mt. Vernon for trial at the earliest date possible. Judge Wickham will preside at the trial. The date will be definitely settled when the attorneys for the state did not make an agreement with defendant's counsel about the date.

Judge Wickham, in granting the impossible for them to show that motion, stated that he had conferred with the sheriff of Knox county and the court thought Mt. Vernon was already overcrowded.

LOAN EXHIBIT AN EDUCATION FOR EVERYBODY

Suggestions Made That Similar Exhibition Could Be Given Every Year.

So many visitors to the Loan Exhibit have spoken of having something or similar to what they see or that some aunt or grandmother or friend has something like or better that we feel safe to say that another Loan Exhibit could begin, just as interesting as the one just passing into the lists of the important events in the history of Newark.

So many excellent suggestions have been made that many have expressed a desire to see something done each year for our library, in fact, to use that expressive advertising phrase, "get the habit."

The story is told of some ladies who were greatly impressed with the multitudinous stitches on the quilts and samplers, that one said to the other, "What will we leave as heirlooms to our grandchildren?" One of the group replied, "It will be a deck of cards, won't it?" More than one person has decided since seeing the quilts at the Loan that they will make one and have consequently delved deeply into quilt lore and can distinguish between patch-work, piece-work, applique and tufting, can recognize and name the various patterns, "The Missouri Belles," "Pine Burn," "Rose of Sharon," "Radical Rose," (no namesake of the rose is deficient in loveliness), "The Pine Tree," "The Rocky Mountain," down through the simpler forms, "Poor Man's Fancy," "Irish Chain," and "Nine Patch," but can they appreciate the whirr and the twirls of the quilting, the "Feather" and "Wreath" and the "Shell and Compass," the "Diamond" and the "Fan"? When quilting was hired out, as was often done, for there were specialists in that line, the wage was by the spool of thread, rather than by the hour or day, at the rate of 50 cents per spool. A fairly elaborate quilt would take seven spools, 4200 feet.

The Colonial Spread, or "Rivers," or Coverlet is a treasure in every home so fortunate as to possess one, and the display at the Loan is a representative one, for a variety both in coloring and design is shown, the "blue and white" probably leading in popularity, for it is more purely colonial.

A relic hunter not long ago asked a woman in the country the pattern of her coverlet. "Well," she said, "I can't tell exactly; it has my grandmother's name onto it and geese all around it." What a fall was that for the American eagle. It is gratifying to know that the making of coverlets is an industry that has been revived. They are being made in Berea, Ky., and in the North Carolina mountains, and we are not sure but at Deerfield, Conn. Wherever made the process is the same as in the olden times: the wool is spun and carded, then dyed with vegetable dyes.

There is a steady demand for the new ones, for they are one and the same, lacking the historical connection.

It is a matter of rejoicing that sewing is being taught in our public schools, for it will surely bring about a different attitude in regard to needlework, for the arts and crafts movement has given dignity to handicrafts; thanks to Ruskin and William Morris. A feeling of reverence comes over one when they look at the collection of samplers wrought by Hannah Moore, and who will not be helped to better things for the privilege of seeing them. What a sweet privilege to live by is wrought so legibly on the last one from her hands, "Just live one day at a time, and live that one day right."

The Loan Exhibit has taught us to value our treasures even more and to realize that in them is an education for the younger generation, and when we take them home no doubt they will be placed in positions of prominence. Those who have not exhibited will have gained a greater appreciation of what they possess, where perhaps before the Loan they stood in doubt, and some day when we have a library building, perhaps a permanent Loan Exhibit may be started, where, with their little historical sketch beside them, they may be placed secure and prove a public benefaction. However that may be, everyone who has aided in any way to make this temporary loan the great success that it has been, is most cordially and graciously thanked.

Mrs. Rose Hawthorne Latrop, who has done so much good among the children of New York City, says: "Little children seem to delight in taking Vinol. In my work among the destitute sick, I give Vinol in many cases where it would be impossible to give cod liver oil in another form, on account of the extreme weakness of the patient's stomach. I have known Vinol to restore appetite and infuse new life in many cases of sick women and children when everything else failed."

Mrs. C. W. Staudt, Canton, O., says:

"I wish I could believe every mother who has a weak, sickly child to try the delicious cod liver preparation

Vinol, as it restores health and strength to our daughter after all else had failed."

At Home

Friday, March seventeenth nineteen hundred and eleven.

Two to five. 322 West Church street.

The following appeared in a Los Angeles, Calif., paper, March 9, 1911. Today, at high noon, in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives, the marriage of Miss Alice M. Conn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Conn of Newark, Ohio, and Dr. William M. Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster, was solemnized at the Immanuel Presbyterian church, corner tenth and Figueroa streets. Rev. Hugh K. Walker officiating, the impressive ring ceremony being used. Miss King played the wedding march. The bride was attired in her traveling suit of blue cloth and blue hat, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

The bride and groom left immediately for a wedding trip through southern California and Old Mexico, and on their return will reside in their new residence which is nearing completion at 1843 West Forty-seventh street, Los Angeles, Calif., where they will receive their friends after April 15th. Many beautiful and useful presents were received by the young couple from their friends.

The past three years Miss Conn has spent in Los Angeles, but formerly resided at Newark, Ohio, where she graduated from the High school. Dr. Foster is a graduate of the University of Southern California Dental college.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. J. R. Conn of Newark, O., and Misses Elizabeth and Kate Scott of Athens, Ohio.

One of the pleasant events of the week was a surprise given in honor of Mr. H. L. Collins' twenty-eighth birthday anniversary at his home, 365 Eddy street on Monday evening in honor of his natal anniversary. He was the recipient of many beautiful presents. Various games afforded the amusements of the evening after which a dainty luncheon was served to the following guests: Messrs. and Mesdames H. L. Collins, L. M. Bratton, W. C. Freeze, A. B. Painter, Rollen Parker, R. M. Smith, Mrs. Emmet Smith, Mrs. Ana McDonald, Mr. O. F. All join in wishing Mr. Collins many more happy birthdays.

The prettiest social event of the week was the tea given by Mrs. C. S. Bounds on Tuesday afternoon at the Dowden home in East Locust street. Receiving on Tuesday afternoon at the was Mrs. Annie Hatch while pouring the tea and coffee were Mrs. David Dowden and Mrs. James Irwin. Breath and Vitality.

THE Orientals have a way of looking at the matter of breathing quite different from ours. Whether we agree with them or not, it may do no harm to get their point of view. It may reveal something worth knowing. It is at any rate broadening to see now and then with the eyes of others.

That there is something in the atmosphere—using atmosphere in its most general meaning—besides oxygen and the other chemical constituents, most scientists agree. This property the sages of Oriental lands name energy or vitality or something to that effect. This, they declare, we breathe into our body as well as oxygen, with every breath we draw. The oxygen is taken into the blood; the energy or vitality of the air is taken up by the nervous system. Just as the blood requires oxygen to purify it, so does the nervous system require energy to vitalize and restore it. So that the matter of breathing becomes important, not only to the blood, as is the view most of us take of it, but also to the nervous system because of the direct nourishment, so to speak, it brings to that.

We all, of course, have our own notions of what vitality is and how it is secured. The general opinion seems to be that it is a product of several things—food, air, right living, in fact. But these Orientals seem to believe that it is a thing in itself, which we breathe in; that, though of course, we do not get all our vitality in this way, we do get a part of it, a large part, and get it directly. They furthermore believe and teach that we can draw in this energy or life in this way, store it up, and have it to call upon when we need it.

They may be no scientific data to prove all this, but the prophet has often preceded the scientist. And there may be more truth in this theory than is at present conceded. At any rate there is no harm in giving it the benefit of the doubt; for deep, full breathing is helpful whether we absorb energy in this form or not. We do take in oxygen and purify the blood which is most essential. If, at the same time, we take in something of especial help to the nerves, no harm is done. For in this rushing, complicated life of ours, the nerves are in sore need of all the help they can get. Nervous energy is rapidly used up; there is no doubt about that. If a source of immediate supply is handy to restore the depletion, so much the better. It gives an added reason for paying due attention to the matter of breathing. And breathing certainly does not receive all that is due when it is considered how important it is to healthy life.

AN OLD-TIME PRESCRIPTION

In a modern product. From time immemorial sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost everyone knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair and making it grow. In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready to use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. Such a preparation is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, which is sold by all leading druggists for 50c and $1.00 a bottle, or which is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by F. D. Hall, druggist.

JOHN ADAMS—Second president of the United States, born Braintree, Mass., Oct. 30, 1735; died Quincy July 4, 1826. Graduated from Harvard 1755 and, after teaching for a time, studied law and was admitted to the bar.

Opponents of the Central Board of Control bill for the state institutions, designed by Governor Harmon to remove these institutions from the baneful influence of politics, can be found in the ranks of the Republican party. Many Ohio Republican newspapers have gone on record against the Central Board of Control, thereby aiding their opponents in their efforts to defeat it.

Many Ohio Republicans have been instrumental in the movement against the bill, and, with Samuel J. Hayes, took leadership against the bill.

Wrote various articles in opposition to the bill, and, as chairman of the First Congressional Committee, and was on the committee to draft the Declaration of Independence. He became involved in the organization of the Anti-slavery movement, and, with Samuel J. Hayes, took leadership against the bill.

Was elected member of the First Congress, and served from 1777 to 1783.

Helped organize the new state of Ohio, and was elected to the first legislature.

Helped organize the new state of Ohio, and was elected to the first legislature.

If the movement in Ohio for state highways is to go on, it will be well roads advocates should press the claim on Republicans who are strongly for a bill drawn by Senator McGuire.

Commissioner Wonders to know the efficiency of his department. The bill has been endorsed by the Ohio Good Roads Association. From Columbus, however, Republican publicity organ articles have been sent to Republican newspapers protesting against the pending highway bill which was offered by Senator McGuire. This article is the plain declaration that all good Republicans should be opposed to this bill which was drawn in the interest of Highways in Ohio, and the good roads advocates should press the claim on Republicans who are strongly for a bill drawn by Senator McGuire.

DEATH

CAME TO THE RELIEF OF DR. J.
W. ALEXANDER WEDNES-DAY MORNING.

Deceased Was a Well Known Practitioner in Newark for Twenty Years—His Autobiography, Written Last Fall.

Dr. J. W. Alexander, who for many years has been well and favorably known in Newark, died at his home, 225 West Main street, at 1:10 o'clock Wednesday morning, after an illness extending over a long space of time with an affection of the heart.

Soon after the doctor was taken ill he became conscious of the fact that his days were numbered and prepared on October 29 last the following autobiography:

The uncertainty which surrounds the hour in which each of us will be called to quit this life, should cause us to stop and meditate. An account of our career given by another after our demise is often incorrect, and fails to do us justice, while frequently we are unduly flattered and are the recipients of unmerited praise. "I was born Oct. 24, 1845, near Zanesville, O. I resided in Muskingum county until I was 10 years of age, at which time I came to Licking county. I was educated in the common schools of Newark, after having attended some of the country schools. In 1860 I commenced work in McCune's foundry, with a view to learning the trade of moulder. In September 1861, I enlisted in Co. H, 21st O. V. I., when not quite 16 years old, and being rather a light weight to carry a musket, I was detailed as fifer of the company, in which capacity I served for more than three years. I was discharged from the U. S. army Sept. 19, 1864, by reason of expiration of my service. After my return from the army, I located in Newark, resumed my partly learned trade, and took up some special studies with a view to entering the ministry. In 1868 I decided to study medicine and entered the office of Barrows & Larimore for the purpose of studying medicine and surgery. In September of '68 I matriculated at Starling Medical College, Columbus, O., and was a student of Starling, living in Columbus, until I graduated, Feb. 27, 1872. Early in the spring, after my graduation, I was appointed to the office of superintendent of the hospital of the Ohio penitentiary. This office is virtually the same as assistant physician. The appointment was for two years, which experience in medicine and surgery was of great value to me. After leaving the O. P. and Columbus, I located in the city of Cleveland, O. This selection was an unfortunate one, however, as I did not meet with the success I anticipated. Returning to Columbus, I sought to regain the professional prestige I had lost in that city, but only succeeded in part, for in four years I came to Licking county, and actually practiced medicine with fair results in four of Licking county's country towns. In all, I have probably practiced in the city of Newark 20 years.

The most important step I ever took was that of embracing the religion of our Lord Jesus Christ, for I was converted in 1863, under the ministry of Rev. Lovet Taft, pastor of the M. E. church, East Main St., between First and Second streets.

"This is an epoch in my life, to which I can refer with great pleasure and satisfaction. If I have ever attained any moral or spiritual standing, or in any way been a blessing to my fellow man, I ascribe it to the benign influence of the Christian religion upon my own life, and give God the glory.

Next to the above-named event in point of importance was, on the 17th day of June, 1868, I was united in marriage to Miss Emma M. Abbott, the fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Abbott of Newark. This heaven-given companion, reared and educated by these highly respected and pious parents, merits my profoundest love; for no wife has ever proved a greater boon to her husband than this beloved woman has been to me. Our mutual joys and sorrows were shared alike by both, and the recounting of the joy may be a great source of happiness in the sublime world beyond.

God, in his goodness, has given us three sons and three daughters, all of whom are well known in this community, and are able to speak for themselves. The dread reaper never has directly visited our domestic circle, for which I am very thankful to our heavenly father.

"I have been a member of the Licking county board of U. S. pension surgeons for more than 13 years. I have been secretary of that body the greater part of the time.

Although a complication of heart diseases was the cause of his death, a post mortem examination will be held tomorrow to determine the exact cause.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the First M. E. church.

WEDNESDAY MARCH 29 IS CLEAN UP DAY IN NEWARK

Wednesday, March 29, 1911, will be "Clean Up" day in Newark.

Every citizen is urged to have all rubbish and debris removed from his cellar and premises on or before March 29.

The general observance of Clean up day in Newark means much to the city. In doctors bills and attending expenses it will save thousands of dollars. In civic pride it is worth more thousands.

The Civic Improvement committee of the Board of Trade of which Mr. W. H. Maze is chairman, is working energetically to secure a general observance of Clean-Up day and reports that are being received at the office of the Board of Trade show a widespread interest in the movement.

Within a few days a definite line of action will be proposed. In the meantime the citizens of Newark are urged to begin the work of cleaning up their basements and cellars, their back yards and the alleys so that all litter and rubbish will be removed to the city dump on or before Wednesday, March 29th. This date comes during the spring vacation of the public schools, thus enabling the boys and girls to take an active part in the work which means so much to the health and to the appearance of Newark.

Remember the day—Wednesday, March 29—and do your part.

GEORGE B. COX

HELD FOR PERJURY

Cincinnati, March 15.—In reviewing the findings of the contempt committee today Judge Gorman held that George B. Cox was in gross contempt of court but in view of his present indictment for perjury should not be prosecuted for contempt.

There is only one soap that can be compared with Ivory Soap, and that is genuine, unadulterated, white Castile Soap.

Very little of it is sold in this country.

The so-called "Castile" soap sold by the majority of drug stores is not "Castile" Soap at all; it is a cheap and inferior imitation of a meritorious article.

ATTENDED CONFERENCE AT COLUMBUS

Denison University Represented by Dr. E. W. Hunt—Meeting of Geological Society.

Granville, March 15.—President E. W. Hunt of Denison University, before going to his home in Granville after his extended stay in the South, attended the annual conference of the Ohio College presidents and deans at the Chittenden in Columbus. While practically all the smaller colleges of the state favored the abolition of football and the introduction of some other college game, the big schools of Ohio stood for football. However, the conference took no definite action in the matter to allow the members to express their sentiments. The committee on resolutions recommended action in regard to a number of legislative matters, all of which were referred to the newly appointed legislative committee of which Dr. Hunt is a member.

Copies of the Arbor Day Manual have been received here for use in the public schools in connection with Arbor Day exercises. The bulletin is issued by State School Commissioner John W. Zeller, and Auditor Riley has received a large number of them, and some of them have been consigned to the Granville schools. The manual contains much useful and valuable information about the trees and birds of the state and tells about Arbor Day, which by proclamation of Governor Harmon will fall on April 7 this year. Suggestive programs, songs, recitations and reading suitable for the day are given in the manual. Both the bulletin and manual are illustrated with many fine pictures of trees, birds and school buildings. The object of the school house pictures is to show how the surrounding of the buildings may be made attractive by the planting of trees, vines and shrubs.

About 60 members of the Ohio Electric Beneficial Association, including the team from Newark, went down to Zanesville on Tuesday night to attend the semi-annual meeting of the grand council of the association, held in that city. There were over 500 members in attendance, including members from points along the road.

The Newark delegation went to Zanesville on a special car, leaving Newark at 4:45 and returning, leaving Zanesville at 11:30 o'clock.

A special car from Springfield took down about 75 members of the association.

The meeting was held in Warner's Hall, and a class of 12 candidates was initiated by the Newark degree team, composed of the following persons: Dr. George Baker, Wm. Johnson, C. Stevenson, J. S. Chapman, Ernest Harris, Wm. Johnson, George Stewart, G. F. Junis, Edward Gifford, George Bush, A. E. Williams and W. H. Bassett.

It was decided to hold the next semi-annual meeting of the grand lodge at Springfield in September. At noon the delegates and visiting members were served dinner at the Manhattan and in the evening a banquet was served at the Coffee Kitchen.

SCORCHING

That the grand jury has had the constant and hearty support at all times of Circuit Judge E. R. E. Klumbrough, without whose aid its labors would have been without results, and Judge Klumbrough has stood alone among the public officials of Vermilion county in urging and aiding this body to investigate violations of the election laws.

That frequent attempts have been made by men prominent in political and business circles in Danville to induce the grand jury to abandon the investigation of the election bribery, the apparent purpose being to shield men high in the public service from exposure through indictment of their criminal supporters. And,

"Whereas, These facts are of vital importance to the citizens of Vermilion county, and conditions are such as to demand a vigorous and unceasing enforcement of the law and an unrelenting prosecution of all who shall violate the sanctity of the ballot; therefore it is

"Resolved, That we appeal to all good citizens of Vermilion county to use every legal and honorable means to suppress political corruption in all of its forms and to hold up to public scorn every man who encourages or participates in election bribery, and, to the end that the law may be effectively and impartially enforced, we recommend that another competent and reliable attorney be appointed to assist in the trial of all criminal cases growing out of violations of the election laws. Be it further

"Resolved, That we believe that the public welfare of the city of Danville demands that County Judge Lawrence T. Allen remove W. C. Brown from the office of election commissioner of such city, and, be it further

"Resolved, That we condemn in strongest terms the politicians and the public officials who have obstructed to their utmost the efforts of the grand jury to investigate crimes against the ballot, and who have committed perjury in many instances in order to protect their fellow criminals. And we would impress upon our citizens that a corrupt ballot is the greatest menace that threatens representative government and the courts alone cannot afford protection to the people, but that the courts must have behind them the support of a wholesome and vigorous public sentiment.

"Resolved, further, That the thank of the grand jury be extended to Messrs. Woodard and Goodwin for their work as foremen; Messrs. Weissiger as examining attorney in the absence of the state's attorney."

Engineer John Powell is on the sick list.

NO HEARTBURN DYSPEPSIA OR SICK STOMACH

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from indigestion, dyspepsia or out-of-order stomach is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking some Diapepsin.

If your stomach is lacking in digestive power, why not help the stomach to do its work, not with drastic drugs, but a re-enforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach.

People with weak stomachs should take a little Diapepsin occasionally, and there will be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, sour risings, gas or stomach or belching of undigested food. Headaches, dizziness or sick stomach, and, besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour, out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved in five minutes after taking a little Diapepsin.

Go to your druggist and get a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin now, and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. They freshen you and make you feel like life is worth living.
